

FIRST YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1892.

ONE CENT.

KENTUCKY WEATHER REPORT.

What We May Expect Between This Time and to-morrow Evening.

THE LEDGER'S WEATHER SIGNALS.

White streamer—FAIR; Blue—RAIN or SNOW; With Black above—TWO WARMER SHOW; If Black's beneath—COLDER 'TILL BE; Unless Black's shown—no change we'll see.

The above forecasts are made for a period of thirty-six hours, ending at 5 o'clock to-morrow evening.

SOME SIMPLE WANTS.

Oh, for a carload of ice cream
And a lake of lemonade.
A million fans all run by steam,
A county or two of shade,
Clothes as thin as gauzy tales,
Of husbands who have strayed,
Oh, for a blast from polar vales,
Or the glance of a Boston maid.

Personal Points

If you have friends visiting you, or if you are going away on a visit, please drop us a note to that effect.

ALL the governments of Europe have either formally or informally accepted the invitation issued by the President to participate with the United States in a monetary conference looking to a more favorable use of silver money. The time and place for the conference have not been settled.

FIRST BLOOD FOR THE DOCTOR.

Mayor Pearce Dismisses an "Itinerant Physician" in One Round.

The ordinance, recently passed by the City Council, prohibiting itinerant physicians from practicing medicine in this city does not apply to Dr. B. A. Stockdale of Louisville.

So Mayor Pearce decided this morning. Dr. Stockdale comes to Maysville once a month. On his last trip, on the 15th inst., he was arrested, and this morning came before the Mayor for trial.

He was represented by E. L. Worthington and C. L. Sallee, and the city by City Attorney Kehoe.

The attorneys for the defendant argued that the ordinance was in itself unconstitutional; that Dr. Stockdale was a physician in good standing with a diploma from a reputable medical college and was registered in the County Clerk's office as required by the statutes of the state.

Some of these facts were admitted by the City Attorney, and the Mayor decided that the Doctor did not come under the head of itinerant quacks, against whom the ordinance was aimed, and he was accordingly dismissed.

HON. SAMUEL O. TATE, Representative from Wayne county in the Kentucky Legislature, was married at Somerset to Miss Lettie Murphy, the accomplished daughter of Mrs. J. F. Barker. It was one of the most fashionable weddings that has ever taken place in that locality.

Greatest Offer of All.
A Daily and Weekly Newspaper for only $3 25 a Year.
As there are many LEDGER subscribers who would like to have a metropolitan weekly, we have arranged to furnish
The Daily "Ledger" and The Weekly "Enterprise" at $3 25 a year. This offer is for yearly subscribers only, in advance. For the announcement in another column and send in your name at once.

THERE'S only one sillier fellow in town than the man who stops in the sunshine to watch a thermometer, and that is the fellow who drinks alcoholic liquors to keep himself cool. On the same principle he would fill a stove with coal as a means of reducing the temperature of a room.

JOSEPH SCHATZMANN has a few novelties in glassware that created quite a stir recently. They contain facsimiles of silver coins, and the Government agents destroyed the dies of the manufacturers and also what goods they had on hand. Call at Mr. Schatzmann's and get a piece as a souvenir.

JABEZ A. BOSTWICK, who lives in a $800,000 house in New York, whose wealth is $20,000,000 and whose daughter was married a few days ago, peddled coal oil lamps in Lexington during the war. This, however, should not inspire every young man to adopt peddling lamps as a sure road to riches.

THE infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman T. Otto died at Covington yesterday morning, aged six months. The remains were brought to this city on the Flyer last night, and the funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Fred Otto, Limestone street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, services by Rev. B. W. Mebane.

BENJAMIN TALBERT, farmer, aged 50, who resided in Daviess county, was found dead in his field. Failing to answer the dinner bell, the family went out to see what was the matter, and found him lying on his face on the soft ground which he had been harrowing. His death is attributed to heart failure. He leaves a wife and several children.

EZRA BARBER, living near Portsmouth, was killed by a mad mule. His lower jaw was torn loose by the animal and he was crushed and stamped to a shapeless mass. The wild animal then attacked five men who attempted to rescue Barber, and after a thrilling fight it was shot and killed. James Pence, one of the rescuers, will lose his right hand from the effects of a vicious bite.

A LIBRARY FOR THE INFIRMARY.

List of Those Who Have Responded to "The Ledger's" Call for Books.

All the residue of her estate she leaves to her nieces, Catharine G. Reid and Maria B. Dudley. She was considered to be worth about $500,000.

COLONEL JOHN WARNOCK suicided at the Smith House, Cynthia, by taking laudanum. He told his daughter, Miss Warnock, that he was without money, home or friends, and intended to take his life. He was at one time one of the best known sporting men in Kentucky, and for years ran a gambling house in Covington. After moving from there he lost all he had, and for years had a hard time to live. "Doctor" Warnock was for a long time a resident of Maysville, where he sustained himself by selling a medicinal preparation that bore his name. He was a quiet, unobtrusive person, and had many friends as a moneyless man generally has.

THE colored people of Danville have vowed vengeance upon those who signed the petition circulated there some time ago urging Senator Breckinridge and Representative Hay to vote for the passage of the separate coach law. Several meetings have been held, at which it was decided that not only money would be contributed to aid in fighting the bill in the courts, but it was resolved that the merchants signing the petition should be boycotted. The boycott has been applied, and two merchants, R. S. Russell and Thomas Alexander, who have felt its effects, and who claim that they did not sign the petition, were forced to procure a letter from Senator Breckinridge stating that they did not sign it.

THE Smallpox in Ohio.
Dr. J. H. Samuel has received a communication from the Secretary of the Ohio State Board of Health, relative to the smallpox in the infected part of that state.

IN Pomeroy the total number of cases has been 41, of these 5 have died, 7 have been discharged as cured, 10 have recovered but are still under quarantine, and 19 are still under treatment.

THERE has been but 53 cases in the whole state and but 7 cities and towns infected. No deaths have occurred except in Pomeroy.

THERE are now, in all, 27 cases under treatment.
